on Muslim Society and Thought

"Re-centering Islamic Studies: Contemporary Discourses between Revealed Knowledge and Social Sciences"

Faculty of Ushuluddin and Philosophy, UIN Sunan Ampel Surabaya 2024

Remark from the Rector of UIN Sunan Ampel Surabaya

Assalamu'alaikum Wr. Wb.

The 4th International Conference on Muslim Society and Thought (IC-MUST) has become a prestigious event for the Faculty of Ushuluddin and Philosophy at UIN Sunan Ampel Surabaya. Since its inception in 2017, this forum has served as a platform for presenting Ushuluddin studies to the public and is now held biennially. In 2024, the Faculty of Ushuluddin and Philosophy at UIN Sunan Ampel is collaborating with several other universities, including Universitas Qomaruddin Gresik, Institut Al Fithrah (IAF) Surabaya, Universitas Kiai Abdullah Faqih (UNKAFA) Gresik, Universitas Al-Hikmah Indonesia Tuban, and Universitas Al-Amien Prenduan Madura.

IC-MUST consistently attracts researchers and Islamic scholars in the field of Ushuluddin to submit their papers for presentation at the conference. This year, approximately 150 papers have been selected, demonstrating that IC-MUST holds a significant place for Ushuluddin scholars in Indonesia and globally. As the premier international event on Ushuluddin studies at UIN Sunan Ampel Surabaya, IC-MUST 2024 will delve deeply into "Re-centering Islamic Studies: Contemporary Discourses between Revealed Knowledge and Social Sciences."

In the 19th and 20th centuries, movements of modernization and secularization occurred in the Muslim world, often leading to the marginalization of Islamic principles in public life. Islamic Studies faced a crisis of relevance, with traditional methods of religious instruction questioned amidst rapid social changes. Intellectuals struggled to reconcile Islamic teachings with modernity, resulting in diverse responses ranging from rejection to synthesis. Today, Islamic Studies stands at a critical juncture, no longer confined to religious texts but encompassing history, politics, sociology, and gender studies to address contemporary issues facing global Muslim societies. This conference aims to reevaluate epistemologies and approaches in Islamic Studies.

Therefore, I am deeply honored to invite you all to participate in this conference. Please engage in plenary and panel discussions to update and exchange your insights.

Lastly, I hope that the 4th IC-MUST 2024 will serve as a strategic venue for all participants and presenters to build collaborative interdisciplinary works in the future.

Wassalamu'alaikum Wr. Wb.

Have a successful conference!
